Vanderbilt University is seeking nominations or applications of senior scholars for appointment to the Edward A. Malloy Chair in Catholic Studies. We welcome applications from a broad range of candidates with manifest expertise in the social, theological, doctrinal, moral, historical, and/or liturgical aspects of Catholicism. While the field of specialization is open, of particular interest are scholars with expertise in early or medieval Christianity.

The holder of the Malloy Chair will teach a range of lower and upper division courses, primarily to students seeking a Master of Divinity or a Master of Theological Studies degree in the Divinity School as well as those preparing for the PhD in the Graduate Department of Religion. Responsibilities include research, advising, curriculum development, and a commitment to public scholarship/leadership.

Review of dossiers will begin Monday, November 8, 2010, and will continue until the position is filled. Send nominations or letters of application to Sherry Willis, Dean's Office, 113 Divinity School, Vanderbilt University, 411 21st Ave. South, Nashville, TN 37240. Electronic applications should be posted to sherry.willis@vanderbilt.edu. A complete dossier will include a CV, a letter of interest, and the names (email and mailing addresses) of three references who have agreed to support the application.

We invite potential applicants to visit our websites at http://www.vanderbilt.edu/divinity/ and at http://www.vanderbilt.edu/divinity/graduateprograms.php. Vanderbilt is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Women, minorities and members of other underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply.
